Stories of courage and delight and purpose

Stories of fear and shadows and pain

Stories which echo our lives and our times

Stories of unconditional love and intentional grace

PROCESSIONAL HYMN

'Once in Royal David's City'

Words: © C F Alexander vss 1 & 2, Susan Jones vss 3 & 4.

Music: H J Gauntlett. Admin by Hope Publishing Company

Katrina Harper (Flutist)

Once in royal David's city, stood a lowly cattle shed, where a mother laid her baby, in a manger for his bed:
Mary was that mother mild, Jesus Christ, her little child.

He is still our lifelong pattern; day by day, like us, he grew;
he was little, weak, and helpless, tears and smiles, like us he knew;
and he cares when we are sad, and he shares when we are glad.

Here and now in Wellington city, he shares this, our life, with us seeking shelter in our hearts; cycling, riding train and bus:
with our poor, and mean, and lowly, lives on earth this Jesus holy.

Open eyes will always see him, any moment of the day.
For that Child so dear and gentle, welcomes all, straight, bi, trans, gay:
leading rainbow people on, to a world where hate is gone.

WELCOME

Kia ora tatou.

Kia ora.

PRAYER and JESUS' PRAYER

CAROL

HIOS 133 (ii) 'There is no child so small'

Words: © 2008 Shirley Erena Murray.

Music: © 2009 Colin Gibson.

There is no child so small, no scrap of life so precious who is not born like Jesus, whose cry is like us all.

There is no child unfed, left hungry now at Christmas but God will ask for justice, for shelter and for bread.

There is no child so lost, no refugee so nameless that God will leave us blameless, who share no care or cost.

There is no child so cheap, in warfare or destruction that love cannot take action when God is made to weep.

There is not one of us who could not be more giving, and in the gift more loving, to light a star for peace.

LIGHTING THE ADVENT WREATH

CWS Partner Story, South India- Social Action for New Development (SAND).

In South India, Malar and Bala attend the Student Parliament organised by SAND at their school. The Year 7 students know the environment is important. The Student Parliament planted a herbal garden in their school grounds. A villager donated compost, SAND helped them collect seeds and young plants - including neem, tulsi, aloe vera, pepper, mint, basil and kapooravalli. SAND works to end child labour, encouraging Dalit parents to send children to school rather than to work. With SAND's help families have more income and better health.

Lighting the Candle of Love

The first Advent candle represents our call to hope; the second, our call to peace, the third, our call to joy. Today the fourth represents our call to love. It is a symbol of God's love, revealed in a baby, love alive in us today.

Love is present everywhere; we are called to be a people of love.

May we love one another, may we show love to all the world.

CAROL

COC34 'Open, open the stable door'

Words & Music: © Colin Gibson

Refrain:

Open, open, open, the stable door, welcome, welcome, welcome, the baby's born, enter, enter, join in the celebration, fear not, here is room for us all.

There's a flock of sheep and a cow and a donkey, welcome, welcome.
Here's a puffing shepherd, three wise men wonky, welcome, welcome.

Refrain

What a crowd of folk come to see the baby, welcome, welcome.
One of them is drunk and another's crazy, welcome, welcome.

Refrain

Fallen off the back of a skip just lately? welcome, welcome.
Feeling rather bruised, yes, and shook up greatly, welcome, welcome.

Refrain

Can't afford a coat and the kids are crying, welcome, welcome.
Haven't found a friend yet, but I'm still trying, welcome, welcome.

Refrain

PASSING THE PEACE

Feel free to pass the peace with those nearby or move to greet others further away. Passing the peace consists of shaking hands and saying "Peace be with you." The response is "Peace be with you" or just "And with you." Or, simply saying 'Hello' is a good idea. Also feel free to simply observe if you wish!

CAROL

HIOS103 'No I've never seen an angel'

Words: © Rob Ferguson. Music: © Colin Gibson

No, I've never seen an angel with lovely golden wings, harping on about a message from a lofty king of kings.
I've never talked to Gabriel or stepped upon a star, or seen St Peter at the gates, not even from afar.

But I've held your hand and heard your voice, and seen your signs of love
in the people all around me every day:
when the hungry ones are fed, when the sick are put to bed,
and the hopeless find there is another way

No, I've never walked on water, or stilled a raging wave;
my water never turns to wine, my porkers all behave.
my loaves and fishes feed just me, my words don't seem to heal;
the dumb don't speak at my command, the numb aren't helped to feel.

But I've sensed the real live miracles in lives that have been changed
in the people all around me every day:

when despair is put to flight, and the darkness turns to light, and the helpless find the strength to walk their way

Yes, I've heard the old, old stories, I've sung the ancient songs;
I've celebrated sacraments, I'm sure that I belong in the line-up of disciples that began by Galilee, rippled over ocean waters, and was handed on to me.

For the ancient stories come to life
if I've got eyes to see,
in the people all around me every day
when the seeds of peace are growing, the justice river's flowing new life abounds along Christ's open way

OFFERING HYMN

HIOS 6 'Always there's a carol'

Words: © Shirley Erena Murray

Music: Colin Gibson. © 2001 Hope Publishing Company

"Carol for a Dark Night" written for U.S.A. friends to offer a sense of hopeful cheer for Christmas 2001

Always there's a carol waiting for a voice, always there's a candle waiting for a flame, always there's an angel telling us "Rejoice!"

*So, sing the carol, light the candle, join the angel praise:
Christmas is the day of all days!*

Always when we seek it, shines the Christmas star, always God is present could we only see, always God enfolds us, holds us where we are,

So, sing the carol...

Always out of darkness, countering the strife, always comes the Christ-child leading us to peace:
always there's a baby, crying for a life,

So, sing the carol...

OFFERING PRAYER

We recognise and bless the gifts brought to the table, and those which wing their way electronically from our banks to the church's account.

CIRCLE OF PRAYER

We think today of the people of Ukraine and the Eastern Orthodox Church in Ukraine and throughout the world. In New Zealand, we remember those in Parliament, and today we name Jami-Lee Ross and Alastair Scott and the members of their electorates of Botany and Wairarapa. Here in Wellington, we pray for the leaders and people of St David's Multicultural Parish, Petone.

DRAMATISED CAROL (sung seated) COC49 'Who are these who ride by starlight?'

Vss 1 and 3 Words: © 1996 Marnie Barrell. Music: © Jillian Bray.

Two men arrive.....

Andrew Matthews, Roger Jones

Who are these who ride by starlight from the corners of the earth, leaving home, forsaking comfort, drawn to one mysterious birth?
These are wise men seeking wisdom, disciplined to watch and pray;
we will read the signs and follow, see where Christ is born today.

They are joined by a third....

Cam Smart

Who is this, a homeless exile, destined from his earliest hour for rejection, conflict, danger, marked for death by worldly power?
Jesus, born to show God's glory shining through despair and loss, we will know you when we meet you by the shadow of your cross.

CAROL

FFS 12 (i) 'Dream a dream'

Words: © 1996 Shirley Erena Murray.

Music: © 1996 Nigel Eastgate (1930-2001).

Dream a dream, a hopeful dream, as children do on Christmas Eve, imaginings, surprising things to hold and to believe.

Dream a time, this Christmas time, when no one's hungry or afraid; that weapons go and harvests grow, that friends are met and made.

Dream a peace, our planet's peace, the greening of the earth at play, the holy ground where life is found, where God has touched the clay.

Dream a gift, the Christmas gift that changes everything we see:
the shimmering of angel wing, the Child, the Mystery.

AFFIRMATION

*Any time of year is good for welcoming new life, whether in golden glow of autumn leaves, or fresh white snow of winter, or the freshness of spring green.
Summer is a time of fullness and light abundance of light, sun and sparkle of sea and reflection from sand.
So may we allow our hearts to be full and light, affirming welcome and openness showering hospitality over all who come near us.
Let us allow our hearts to be gently warmed by this summer sun affirming acceptance and embrace by this baby son affirming life which always is, in which we can always be.*

CAROL

COC52 'You are born in us again'

Words & Music: © Mark Wilson.
arr. Shona Murray, descant Colin Gibson.

You are born in us again.
Like the warmth of the summer wind you come,
to melt away the icicles of vanity and pride;
you come to blow the very doors of loving open wide.
Like the warmth of the summer wind you come, (repeat)

You are born in us again.
Like the scent of the summer rain you come.
You come to quench the thirsty and to freshen up the land;
you come to clean away the dust that's settled in our hand.
Like the scent of summer rain you come, (repeat)

You are born in us again.
Like the light of the summer sun you come,
to give light to the places that have never seen the Son:
you come now to embrace us, you're the holy, holy one.
Like the light of the summer sun you come, (repeat)

MODERATOR'S CHRISTMAS MESSAGE - Giving presents, being present (excerpt)

Greetings... I cannot help but think now of all the people in North Canterbury and around Kaikoura who are isolated... I know that Christmas this year will be very difficult for them. Giving towards their great need will make some difference, but for those facing the loss of their livelihood, way of life, income, homes and, for some, their loved ones – presents simply won't help.

What will make a difference, however, is the sense that they are being heard in all of their grief and loss – that someone is on the journey with them and that they are not alone. I spent three days in North Canterbury recently listening to, and trying to understand, people as they coped with the enormity of the losses. I could do very little materially or practically to relieve their situation, but the relief I felt from those who were able to share their situation was palpable.

From farmers who looked likely to lose their farms to business owners struggling to access government help – all I could do was be there and listen, and yet that seemed to be OK. To provide a listening ear, to struggle to understand their pain – even if I could do little to alleviate it – that counted.

In many ways the same can be said for presents. Where a present conveys the notion that someone is willing to be a companion in life, a listener, a supporter – then the present will always be welcome because what really counts in life, is love. The question in all our hearts is – “Does someone love me... am I worthy of being loved?” When a present can be used to say “yes” to this question – it's worth making the effort to give. Mother Theresa once said, “Loneliness and the feeling of being unwanted is the most terrible poverty”.

I believe our greatest gift is to address this loneliness in any way we can. So this year as you consider your gift giving, think about how the simple act of offering a listening ear, sharing a thoughtfully considered gift, or simply being there can make someone feel wanted, loved and cherished. Gifts don't need to be expensive, nor do they need to be tangible to bring joy to the gift giver, the recipient and God. Be a cheerful giver this Christmas, and share what you are able, to make a difference in the lives of others. “Beloved, let us love one another, because love is from God; everyone who loves is born of God and knows God.” (1 John 47). God Bless you and yours this Christmas,
Richard Dawson, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church of Aotearoa New Zealand

FUNDRAISING INITIATIVE

Fionnaigh McKenzie is aiming to swim (at least) 3.3km, and raise $3.3k for relief aid for Syria. She will be doing the swim on 29th January, as part of the Capital Classic event, and if she meets her fundraising target, she has pledged to get back in the water for another half a kilometre. You can sponsor her by going to <https://givealittle.co.nz/fundraiser/swim4syria> or giving her a cash donation on Sunday. Funds raised will go to ReliefAid works to save lives and alleviate the suffering of people affected by armed conflict and natural disasters through independent and impartial humanitarian action. Their current appeal ‘Communities Under Fire’ focuses on the distribution of food and shelter items to families brutally affected by the civil war inside Syria.
