as Word for now Part 2

WELCOME TO ST ANDREW'S ON THE TERRACE

Wherever you are on your faith's journey, wherever you have come from and wherever you are going to, whatever you believe, whatever you do not believe, you are welcome here.

Please join in the congregational responses printed in bold italics.

Please stand if you are able, for the hymns and the offering prayer.

We will sing the hymns without announcement.

To use the loop system in the church, turn your hearing aids on to the appropriate setting.

Please note your nearest fire exit.

The church and hall have been earthquake strengthened. In an earthquake: drop, cover and hold.

GATHERING

Lovers of the vast ocean which is God, we gather on the shore of this island, our earth and home.

Looking out to sea where the long blue line of horizon stretches beyond our sight;

Longing to know more of those clear aquamarine depths,
we take these moments,

the words, these prayers, this music,

the company of these people, the spaces of quiet to come to know those depths more and to find our and other's place in the deep blue sea.

PROCESSIONAL HYMN

'Celebrate the life we're given'

Words: © Susan Jones 2015 Tune: Austria WOV 577

Celebrate the Life we're given
Grace on grace, where love abounds
Celebrate the world around us
Blue and green, where birdsong sounds Celebrate sun's rise and setting
'cross the harbour, over hills
Everything reflects true beauty
Love, Joy, Spirit; each heart fills.

We choose to live lives of meaning even when the sky turns grey.
We choose to continue journeying
Taking brave steps, straight, bi, gay.
We choose wrestling with doubt or danger,
Trials which shade and haunt our way.
Every moment we're companioned,
Love walks with us, every day.

WELCOME

Kia ora.

We send you to the Rainbow Room programme to hear stories, ask questions and have fun together.

We bless you. Amen.

PASSING THE PEACE

Feel free to pass the peace with those nearby or move to greet others further away. Passing the peace consists of shaking hands and saying "Peace be with you." The response is "Peace be with you" or just "And with you." Or, simply saying "Hello" is a good idea. Also feel free to simply observe if you wish!

THE WORD IN TEXTS

Douglas Wood

Hebrew Bible

Hosea 11: 1-11

Gospel

Luke 12: 13-21

Contemporary reading

from 'Preface' in the first Christmas
By Marcus J Borg & John Dominic Crossan

There is a political meaning and challenge in these stories, both in their ancient setting and today. Of course, these stories are not only "political" – they are also deeply personal. They speak, and speak powerfully, about our deepest yearnings and about God's promises and passion. They are religious in the way the Bible as a whole is religious: life with the God of Israel, the God of Jesus, is both personal and political. The personal and political meanings can be distinguished but not separated without betraying one or the other. ...the political meaning of these stories has commonly been overlooked.... [this]... involves no denial of the way these stories also speak to our lives as individuals. They are about light in our darkness, the fulfilment of our deepest yearnings, and the birth of Christ within us. They are about us - our hopes and fears. And they are about a different kind of world...

RESPONSE

For the Word in scripture,
for the Word among us,
for the Word within us,
we give thanks

REFLECTION 'Interpreting Word written then as Word for now 2' Susan Jones

HYMN

FFS 41 'Let my spirit always sing.'

Words: © 1996 Shirley Murray. Music ©1996 Rusty Edwards. Hope Publishing Company

Let my spirit always sing,
though my heart be wintering, though the season of despair give no sign that you are there,
God to whom my days belong,
let there always be a song.

Though my body be confined,
let your word engage my mind, let the inner eye discern how much more there is to learn, see a world becoming whole through the window of the soul.

Let your wisdom grace my years,
choose my words and chase my fears,
give me wit to welcome change,
to accept, and not estrange, let my joy be full and deep in the knowledge that I keep.

Let my spirit always sing,
to your Spirit answering,
through the silence, through the pain know my hope is not is vain, like a feather on your breath trust your love, through life and death.

AFFIRMATION (you are invited to say together as much as you can)

We affirm the Word, full of meaning and truth, which speaks through the lips of child, lover, parent or friend,
or from pages of ancient Scripture,

contemporary novels and biography or through dramatic characters on stage or screen.

*We affirm the Word lived among us by the most unlikely people, some overdrawn, others quietly hidden;
Word lived rather than spoken, seen in random and not-so-random acts of kindness rather than heard from public address systems.*

*We affirm the Spirit behind our many words, warning and challenging, encouraging and comforting,
speaking in the heart just when we need it, speaking to us from others, though they may not know it.*

We treasure the Word and the word, words spoken and lived, words thought and remembered.

In all these words we believe we hear the voice of the mystery we call God.

CIRCLE OF PRAYER

We think today of the people of Singapore and the National Council of Churches of Singapore. In New Zealand, we remember those in Parliament, and today we name Chris Hipkins and Annette King and the members of their electorates of Rimutaka and Rongotai. Here in Wellington, we pray for the leaders and people of Hutt City Uniting Congregations.

HYMN

‘We bring thankful hearts’

Words © 2002, 2016 Susan Jones

Tune: Thaxted WOV (I vow to thee my country)

We bring thankful hearts for energy, for youthfulness and age
For friends and home and family, for innocent and sage
For exercise and stillness, for silence and for sound
For drama and reflection and singers of renown
For all the world’s enrichment, its culture, spirit true
For being alive in all of it, being on the Way with you.

We also have experienced the loss and pain of fear,
When world and home and families by trauma have been seared.
We are thankful all for comfort giv’n then by friendship true
When days were dark and dreary, but we still made it through
And we’re glad that Jesus knows well how life us all can sway
Staying with us in the dark times, stay’ng with us on the Way.

And now we face the future where meaning may be found
Seeking lives that work on justice, that stand on solid ground.
We want to make a difference so this world will still survive
And be a place where peace is, where children stay alive.
As we all walk on together may Love be here each day
And may our lives be worthwhile as people of the Way.

SPIRITED CONVERSATIONS - Monday August 8th at 6.15pm in the Centre

Speakers: Dr Ben Gray, Newtown Union Health Service and Grant Robertson MP.

Topic: Problems with Health – Introduction by Dr Ben Gray: New Zealand has a good health service by international standards. However there are some significant problems. Ben will start his presentation by briefly discussing the impact of income inequality and how New Zealand is not addressing this issue well, and how this is a large contributor to health outcome inequities and conclude by arguing that an important issue is that we are trying to do too much and that it is unlikely that we will make a big difference to health outcome inequities if we don't ration more and stop providing some services. Grant Robertson to reply. Catered Meal $10pp. RSVP in the blue clip folder at the back of the church.

PUTTING FAMILY AHEAD OF SHOPPING

The Government is trying to pass a law that puts Easter Sunday at risk for retail workers across New Zealand. This is one of only three and a half days a year that are guaranteed time for them and their families instead of work. Your local MP, Peter Dunne, has one of the two key votes they need to pass this law. Please, ask him to put retail workers and their families first over another day of shopping.
